Algeria Presentation

Algérie Presentation

Algeria (in Arabic: الجزائر, Tamazight: Dzayer), officially the People's Democratic Republic of Algeria, is a state of the Northern Africa that is part of the Maghreb. It is the largest country bordering the Mediterranean and the largest one of Africa. It shares land borders in the north-east with Tunisia, in the east with Libya, in the south with Niger and Mali, in the south-west with Mauritania and the territory of Western Sahara, and in the west with Morocco.

Algeria is a member of the United Nations (UN), the African Union (AU) and the League of Arab States since its independence in 1962. It has joined the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) in 1969. In February 1989, Algeria took part, along with the other Maghreb States, in the creation of the organization of the Arab Maghreb Union (AMU). The Algerian Constitution defines "Islam, Arabity and Amazighness" as "fundamental components" of the identity of the Algerian people and the country as "land of Islam, an integral part of the Great Maghreb, Mediterranean and African"
